An advertising campaign which says "The Government doesn't care" will always lead to the fact that about three in four of the members of the public in the Government of Great Britain, the media, the schools, the press and the radio and the TV, will be saying the opposite. They will say "The Government does care". The media, the schools, the press and the radio and the TV, will be saying the opposite of the advertisement which the public will see. The advertisement will say "The Government doesn't care" and the public will say "The Government does care". It must be said that it is not a good idea to say "The Government doesn't care" and to say "The Government does care".
